

BLAISE TYREL B. DAGA

About Me

I am a dedicated first-year college student pursuing a Bachelor of Science in Information Systems. Throughout my academic journey, I have consistently demonstrated excellence and a proactive approach to overcoming challenges. My inherent passion for technology, cultivated since childhood, has not only fueled my curiosity but also instilled in me a deep connection to the ever-evolving world of information systems. As a fast learner, I am committed to staying abreast of emerging technologies and leveraging my skills to contribute meaningfully to the field.
